Timothy Olyphant,

43, star of the FX series Justified, is a smoking-hot straight shooter who's hilarious too.

Justified*'s Raylan Givens is not your first character in a cowboy hat. What's the allure?

I trust you're referring to my part on Deadwood, but I'll have you know I also wore a cowboy hat in a beach scene with Jennifer Garner in Catch & Release. With Raylan, there's something about the kind of man who won't go into a house without being invited but will give someone 24 hours to get out of town before he kills them. Men like those characters.

You married your college sweetheart. What's the secret to a lasting relationship?

You have to be with the right person, and you both have to be willing to do the work, day in and day out, to make it happen.

You have three kids. How does fatherhood change a man?

It f---ing exhausts you! That's how it changes you! My buddy on the show is expecting a baby. I said, "Imagine I call you at midnight, and I hang up without saying anything. Then I call you two hours later, and I hang up again. This continues. Oh, and by the way, in between my calls, you're wondering if I'm dead." That's what it's like.

What's your favorite feature on a woman?

Show me the woman and I'll show you my favorite feature.
